

CITES PROGRESS BY COOPERATIVE AT 22ND DINNER

A quarter of a century of growth and progress by the Cooperative Fruit Growers of Adams County was reviewed by President John Peters at the 22nd annual banquet of the members Thursday evening at Keefeauver Elementary School cafeteria. Nearly 150 members and guests attended the affair.

Three of the 27 members who formed the cooperative in 1932 were introduced. They were President Peters, A. B. C. Williams, who was presented as "the father of cooperatives in Adams County," and Carol Dillon, also a current member of the board of directors. Six others of the original 27 organizers continue as members, Mr. Peters said.

Noting that in the last year and a half "our members have laid out $175,000 in cash to underwrite a modern marketing program," Mr. Peters declared: "Tonight there is not another grower-owned cooperative in Pennsylvania to compare with ours in size and possibilities. All of those that are comparable in scope are owned by investment trusts.

"On Par With Best"

"We are on a par with the best known and largest operators in the fresh fruit field in eastern United States and we are finding the trade ready to buy our fruit insofar as we can produce quality," the president said, and praised the cooperative for its "forward look, keeping our group abreast of the times and doing things all agriculture must do.

"We are not interested in government subsidies or aid. We are not trying to make a political issue out of the challenge of the times. We are putting interest and our money into running our own business instead of running to Washington for a handout on the gravy train."

Earlier in his talk, Mr. Peters cited the changes in agriculture in the last few decades and the problems those changes have brought. "In 1940," he said, "one U. S. farm—

Shah Divorces Queen Because She Failed To Give Him Heir

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The Shah of Iran today announced his divorce from beautiful young Queen Soraya because she failed to give him a son and heir to his throne.

The divorce followed weeks of negotiations with the childless, 26-year-old queen, deliberations within the Royal Council and long hours of soul-searching by Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi.

Soraya now is in West Germany with her father, the Iranian ambassador there.

The 38-year-old monarch and his green-eyed wife had been a devoted, almost inseparable couple, but the Shah, as a court communique put it, "ignored his personal feelings for the sake of the nation's high-level interests."

Wanted Son For Heir

The communique said the royal advisers had urged that the heir to the Iranian throne be a son of the Shah, rather than a brother as had been suggested, because of the country's great interest and to "avoid possible future unrest."

Court sources said there was no official hint of the ruler's next bride or whether the Shah would

Carroll W. Irvin, U.S. Customs Inspector, Seizes Gold, Jewels Being Smuggled In From Mexico

The suspicions of Carroll W. Irvin, son of Mrs. David Irvin, 108 Carlisle St., now a customs official at Brownsville, Texas, last week led to the capture of nearly $200,000 worth of gold and pearls as it was being smuggled into the U.S. from Mexico.

Texas newspapers, in telling of the discovery of the gold and pearls, said the smugglers may have been bringing the cache into the U.S. for use in supplying Cuban rebels with arms.

Irvin, aged 42, has been in the customs service for the last ten years, first at Laredo and more recently at Brownsville.

Newspaper reports and a letter from Irvin to his mother here reveal that Irvin discovered the cache when his suspicions were aroused by some actions on the part of three men in a car in which the nearly $200,000 was found.

In outline Search

Irvin's letter to his mother noted that "yesterday" (March 6) was a very good day for him. He received word that he had passed an examination for advancement with a grade of 98 per cent. "One hour after receiving the official notice of the result of the exam, I performed a routine inspection of a tourist automobile and made a seizure of gold valued at about $150,000 including a 1957 DeSoto sedan. . . . We had no information about the car. I just stumbled upon it accidentally in a routine search. The men were nonchalant, even a little gay, but they made one mistake that made me suspicious." Irvin did not state the nature of the mistake that aroused his suspicion, nor was it listed in the newspaper account of the capture.

"The Brownsville Herald," Brownsville, Texas, newspaper, used an front column streamer across its page March 7 on the story. The banner line stated "Trio Nabbed With Gold, Jewels." They quoted Irvin as saying he became suspicious of the three men when "they went through a routine customs check at the bridge," between Brownsville and Matamoros, Mexico.

Enroute To Miami

The men were two American Citizens, both egg dealers from Miami, Fla., David Schiller, 58, and Irving Wilpon, 52, and a former banker from Havana, Cuba, Joaquin Armando Cebrian Granadas, 64. Following the seizure they were released for an appearance before the U. S. Federal Court in May. The men said

BURGESS HAS PLAN TO HANDLE SPRING BUSES

Gettysburg borough council will be asked at its April session to alleviate traffic control problems caused by the arrival here, during the season, of hundreds of buses loaded with tourists.

In the meantime Burgess Wilbur L. Plank has announced a plan for meeting the situation temporarily while asking five local organizations for their suggestions on solution of the problem.

Burgess Plank said the Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants Association, Gettysburg Travel Council, Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Battlefield Guides Association have been invited to make suggestions by April 2, with those suggestions to be submitted to council for its consideration along with the temporary plan put into operation by the burgesses.

Many Buses Coming

Plank said the temporary plan for handling buses in metered zones of the town was established in cooperation with the president of town council, H. M. Oyster, and Highway committee chairman, C. Donald Rebert.

He added that the plan was drafted as a temporary measure "in realization that a number of chartered buses are expected to arrive in Gettysburg this month and that council will not have an opportunity to act on the matter before its next meeting on April 7."

One bus company alone plans to send 89 buses into the community within the next few months.

In asking the various organizations to suggest plans to alleviate the congestion caused by such buses, Burgess Plank observed: "The overall plan that will be submitted to council should take into consideration the need, convenience, livability—

LOCAL FIRMS FILL ORDERS FOR NEW AF ACADEMY

When the huge new establishment for the U. S. Air Force Academy in Colorado goes into use next September although construction will not be complete by that time, Adams County manufacturing firms will have played an important role in getting the new academy ready for the new air cadets.

The Adams County Novelty Company here is building and finishing 2,640 veneer bookcases which will be used to furnish academy buildings while the Keystone Ridgway Corporation is making and shipping about 200,000 square feet of ceramic tile for use in walls and floors of the new buildings there.

Adams Novelty company expects to finish its order by May 31. It is building and finishing ready for use the wooden bookcases 52 inches long by 28 inches high by 11 inches deep.

Other Government Work

Adams Novelty recently finished a good-sized order of assorted types of tables and bookcases for a Navy housing project at Capehart, S. C. That work was started about last November and the last shipment is to go out in a few weeks.

Keystone Ridgway started work in December on its tile order for the AF academy buildings and has shipped out about half of the total order which will fill 14 or 15 freight cars. The tile will be installed by the local firm's west coast contractor, Selectite Company of Los Angeles.

President John J. Reimer of the local tile company said his firm has recently completed filling another government order for an army installation at Camp Rucker, Ala. Schools being erected in the Philadelphia area are currently using Keystone Ridgway tile.

Heaviest Snow Of Winter Reaches Depth Of One Foot In Mountains; Roads Open But Utility Lines Hit

February Snow Cost $35,000

While state Highway department crews moved a heavier but less troublesome snow today, Superintendent Clyde O. Garber reported that the week-long battle against snowdrifts in Adams County in mid-February cost the state about $35,000.

Complete and exact figures are available yet, he said, for the around-the-clock fight to open roads and keep them open from Saturday afternoon, February 15, until the next Friday.

Extra help was put on and a part of the expense was hiring bulldozers to move drifts that regular snow plows mounted on the state trucks could not budge.

Mr. Garber said this winter will be one of the most costly in years for snow removal. The $35,000 estimate covers only the mid-February task and does not include the dozen other times snow plows or cinder crews have been called out since last fall. It does not include today's task of moving snow that reached one foot in depth over night.

With spring only a week away by the calendar, the heaviest snow of the winter was dumped upon Adams County Thursday night and this morning, mounting to depths up to 12 inches in the mountains.

The snow, which began early Thursday afternoon but did not cover the ground until late afternoon, was wet and heavy and there was no drifting.

State Highway Department snow plows started work at 4:30 p.m. Thursday in the mountain areas and later three graders and 36 trucks went into action to plow snow throughout the night. County Highway Maintenance Superintendent Clyde O. Garber said the plows remained in action through mid-morning. All main highways were kept open.

Mercury Near Freezing

While the snow reached a depth of seven to eight inches here, McSherrytown reported 10 to 11 inches and in the Wrensville area it reached one foot in depth, the state Highway department reported.

Temperatures hovered close to the freezing mark throughout the night. Gettysburg's low for the night was 32 degrees. Warmer temperatures which had been predicted for late Thursday night or early this morning were arriving later in the morning and the snow was beginning to melt.

Borough snow removal crews started moving the heavy snowfall early this morning, giving first attention to crossings and the metered areas.

Schools Operating

Telephone and electric companies were having many reports of scattered trouble caused by snow on wires. In some cases when the snow drops off the electric wires snap back, strike another wire and blow a fuse or in some cases burn the wires through. Snowladen trees and branches have damaged other lines.

The United Telephone company said the trouble was not extensive and in most instances involved only a few patrons. The Adams Electric Cooperative had six repair crews working in radio-equipped trucks in York, Adams and Franklin Counties repairing the snow damage as rapidly as it is reported.

There were no reports today of closed schools and a check on attendance figures for the Gettysburg public schools showed absences not far above normal. There were 103

G. F. EBERHART IS 81 YEARS OLD

George F. Eberhart, Eberhart Apartments, N. Washington St., who owned and drove the first automobile in Gettysburg and established the town's first garage today observed his 81st birthday. He said: "I observed it quietly, recovering from the gripe."

About 1905 Mr. Eberhart bought the first car in town for $850. It was a one-cylinder Cadillac that was entered from the rear. The second car arrived in town about three weeks later.

In 1906 he built a wooden garage on S. Washington St., at the site now occupied by the small brick garage building in the rear of the present C. W. Epley garage, and began storing cars. The original purpose of the garage was to store cars but after about a year it became evident that more mechanical service was needed than Mr. Eberhart could provide alone and he engaged Francis Smith and George Hayberger to enter the mechanic business with him. In 1916 when the garage business grew more important, he built the present C. W. Epley garage on Chambersburg St. For many years he operated the Eagle Hotel, on the corner of Chambersburg and N. Washington Sts. Part of the hotel is now the Eberhart apartment.

they were enroute from Mexico City to Miami and planned to fly out of Brownsville to Miami.

According to the newspaper report, the find totaled close to $200,000, but exact value of the loot cannot be determined until an appraisal of the coins and bracelets' gold content and the value of the pearls is made. The paper noted: "About $100,000 of the seized cache was in gold peso pieces—about 5,000 of them, of varying denominations. In addition 10 almost pure gold bracelets and eight strands of pearls were seized. Everything was tucked in canvas money bags when found by the customs inspector."

Largest Catch On Record
The newspaper said: "The gold and pearls may have been earmarked in payment of arms destined for Cuban rebel leader Fidel Castro" and observed that Miami, the home of the two men "has been used for years as a base headquarters for Cuban revolutionists."

According to Irvin and the newspaper, the seizure was the largest amount of gold ever caught as it passed the border at that spot. In 1955, $4,000 in gold was seized. The newspaper observed that Irvin will not benefit from the seizure, whereas Mexican customs officials across the border, had they found the cache, would have become relatively wealthy. "By U. S. law," the Brownsville paper said, "no customs official is entitled to a reward for loot seized in a smuggling attempt. If Mexican customs officials had made the seizure they would have netted a full 40 per cent of the loot."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clark (D-Pa.) voted with the majority yesterday in passing a bill to freeze government price supports and acreage allotments for major farm crops at 1957 levels. The vote was 50-43. Sen. Martin (R-Pa.) voted against the measure.

WILL SPEEDUP HIGHWAY BILL OF $1.5 BILLION

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Public Works Committee is expected to approve today a highway construction speedup bill to add 1½ billion dollars to the money available this year.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.), chairman of the Public Roads subcommittee which completed work on the bill last night, said it would have two main effects:

1. Provide thousands of jobs over the nation to counter the recession.

2. Put the 41,000-mile super-highway network—the interstate system—back on the 13-year schedule originally planned for it.

Expects Quick Passage
Gore predicted the Senate will pass the bill next week. He noted that it had strong bipartisan approval in his subcommittee. The highway measure is a major item in an anticession package on which Senate Democratic leaders are driving for quick action.

The bill would make available these U. S. funds over what is currently planned for the already large federal aid roadbuilding program:

200 million dollars for the interstate system in fiscal 1959 starting July 1, added to two billion already apportioned last year for that period. The extra 200 million could be allotted immediately on enactment of the bill.

Other Road Plans
900 million for the interstate in fiscal 1960 in addition to $1,600,000,000 available under present law. The entire amount would be apportioned in July this year instead of December as now scheduled.

400 million for the primary, secondary and urban road systems, known as ABC roads. This would be in addition to 875 million dollars of federal money apportioned last year for fiscal 1959 for these systems.

The states are required normally to match ABC funds 50-50, and to pay only 10 per cent of the cost of the interstate.

However, the bill would provide that the special 400 million ABC allotment this year would be on a 70-30 matching basis so that the states would have to put up only 171 million, and could borrow two-thirds of that amount.

3-11 Inches In State
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A heavy overnight snowstorm dumped 3 to 11 inches of wet, slushy snow on Pennsylvania today, creating hazardous driving conditions across the state.

There was a prospect the snow would reach 12 inches or more in some areas before it ended later in the day.

Temperatures ranged from freezing to a little above, resulting in some of the snow melting as it fell. That created miserable slushy conditions and added to driving hazards.

In western Pennsylvania, Westmoreland County reported a fall of 11 inches. Harrisburg, in the central area, had 8 to 10 inches. But in the eastern area, Philadelphia reported only 2 inches.

The Weather Bureau issued a heavy snow warning of a fall of 8 to 12 inches throughout the central area but added the snowfall would taper off during the afternoon.

Snow, Ice On Pike
The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission reported the toll road across the state was covered with snow and ice from the Ohio state line to the Delaware River bridge but that it was being plowed and cindered. The same conditions prevailed throughout the Northeastern Extension to the Scranton interchange.

Bitter cold, which usually accompanies snowstorms, was lacking. Overnight temperatures ranged from 35 at Philadelphia and Lancaster to just about freezing at Harrisburg and York, and a few degrees below freezing in the mountains from Altoona to Lewis town to Sunbury and Bloomsburg. There was also very little wind.

The snow fall ranged westward to Altoona, Johnstown and Greensburg northward to Williamsport and Erie, and eastward to the Allentown and Scranton areas.

The Weather Bureau explained that, at the outset of the snowstorm, streets and highways were warm enough to melt the first inch or so, leaving a slushy condition.

The Weather Bureau said the snow would start tapering off during morning, especially in the southeastern area but that light snow or snow flurries would continue in the mountains tonight and into tomorrow.

STRUCK BY CAR

Rodney J. Starnes, 28, Gardners R. 2, was struck by an auto in Carlisle Thursday afternoon when he attempted to cross the street and ran into the path of a moving car, police said. He was taken to the Carlisle Hospital where he was treated for cuts about the face.

Police said the driver of the car was Max B. Killinger, 17, Newville R. 3.

5 CHICKENS KILLED

Dog law enforcement officers today announced an investigation into the killing of five chickens by a dog at the residence of Mrs. Harry Lightner, Fairfield R. D. The incident occurred Sunday night. Enforcement officials said a reddish appearing animal leaped into the chicken yard, killed the chickens and left.

WANT STATES TO FOLLOW PA.

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—Gov. Leader says the states and the federal government should follow Pennsylvania's lead in pushing public works and highway projects to curb unemployment.

"I do not mean this as a 'make-work program,'" Leader said. "The states and the federal government just should advance the starting dates for projects which already are laid out."

Has News Conferences
The governor's remarks were made at a news conference prior to a regional meeting yesterday in connection with his program for accelerating construction projects in Pennsylvania. Earlier in the day a similar session was held at Johnstown. Previous meetings were held in Philadelphia, Scranton, Erie and Pittsburgh. A final session is slated for Harrisburg next week.

Leader explained that his program calls for pushing ahead some 200-million dollars worth of construction projects for which money already has been appropriated. He said again that no new taxes are necessary.

He estimated some 454,000 Pennsylvanians—approximately 10 per cent of the labor force—are currently idle.

The Cape to Cairo Railroad was completed in 1918.

Thefts Of School Funds Date To '47

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)—Accountants have traced the juggling of Collingdale school accounts back to 1947.

Wilford L. Otley Jr., a member of the Collingdale School Board, announced last night at a board meeting that the accounting firm of Lybrand, Ross Bros. and Montgomery is checking back through the years until they reach the point where there is no more evidence of embezzlement.

Faber E. Stengle, former school district superintendent, is charged with embezzling some $200,000 in school funds over a 10 year period. He was arrested about a month ago in St. Petersburg, Fla.

FIND PAIR DEAD IN BEDROOM

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A couple whose two sons were killed in a 1956 auto accident were found shot to death yesterday in their bedroom.

Raymond Lukshus, 33, was lying on the floor beside the bed, a bullet through his head and an automatic pistol by his side.

His 36-year-old wife, Betty, was lying on the bed, a bullet in her right temple.

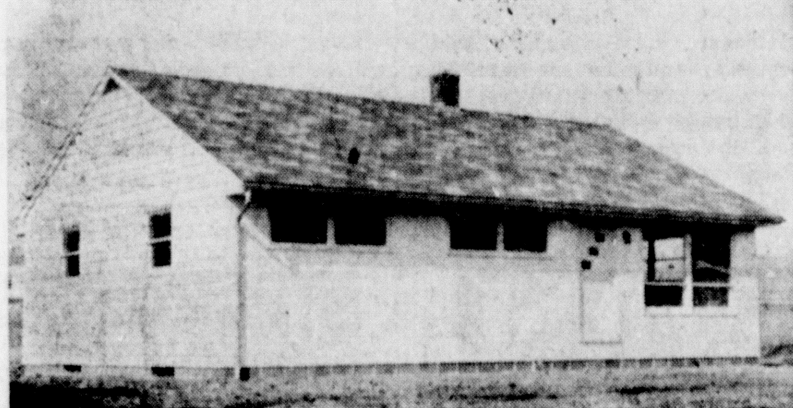

Authorities said Mrs. Lukshus had been dead since late Tuesday night. They said she died about eight hours before her husband did.

She was a secretary. Lukshus was unemployed. The two bodies were found after Mrs. Lukshus' employer reported to police that she hadn't come to work since Tuesday.

The couple's two sons, Terry, 10, and Randy, 8, were killed in July, 1946, in an automobile accident near Lancaster. Since the accident, police said, Lukshus had been under treatment for nervous and mental depression. The couple moved to Philadelphia from Lancaster about one year ago.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Federal-State Flood Forecasting Service said today that the overnight snow presents no potential flood threat in Pennsylvania.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Maroons Spank William Penn
To Snare Title: An old saying

"What happens twice will happen thrice" held up Friday night when Coach George Forney's Gettysburg high school Maroons won their third straight District 3 PIAA basketball championship by "snowing under" William Penn high, of Harrisburg, before an over-flow crowd of approximately 1,800 fans on the York high court, 4-43.

Captain Ross Sachs, the Maroons' brilliant guard, won himself more acclaim with a dazzling all-around performance that kept the William Penn team on the short end of the score from start to finish.

Friday's tilt marked the third straight time the Tigers and Maroons clashed for the district honors and the Forney-men are believed to have set a record in taking their third straight title in as many years. As far as could be learned today no other team ever won the title three times in succession.

DIRT FARMERS

I don't know where I selected the two words — dirt farmer, but they are very expressive.
There are several kinds of people who live and work on a farm, but real ones are those who dig in the dirt, clear fields, and plant seeds. Who does not love the fields of grain waving in the wind? And how eventful is that life of a dirt farmer!

I can speak appreciatively, for
I spent much time on a farm in Michigan, when a youth. It was an experience that has enriched my entire life. I loved everything connected with the farm — except one thing. I hated the days when I was asked to get the big tool in the barn that we used to cut in the fields of thistles! I didn't feel the noble part of a dirt farmer then.

I loved the horses, the cows, the lambs, and other animals of the farm, and hardly a day passed that something interesting didn't turn up. I learned the name of every bird and beast that inhabited the farm lands. Especially fascinating were the thick trees of the forest bordering the cultivated acres.

During my days upon the farm we had to work hard, and we didn't have a soft seat for any of the cultivators, or wonderful improvements as of today. But we then got nearer to the dirt than today.
Its rich smell stirred our dreams of later harvests and thrilling days during threshing times.

Another task I recall that I had no love for, and this was churning with that old antique of a churn with the handle in the center. But the sight of that creamy white butter was something to be held! I am thankful for having been born in a small town — with many a farm near at hand. That dirt farmer is a great American institution to this very day.

Just Folks

THE SIMPLE MAN

He never won a prize
And he never rose to fame.
He never heard men cheering
At the mention of his name.
Men never heard him boasting
Of the things that he could do,
But he always did his duty
In the best way that he knew.

He never ran for office,
He never tried to be
A bigger man than others
Or have more authority.
He never broke a promise
And he never failed a friend;
And he did the work he found
to do,
Contented to the end.

He never wore a halo
And he never wore a crown;
But what is more, he never turned
A needy brother down.
He never let his grouches
Spoil some other fellow's fun,
And he left a lot of mourners
When his day on earth was done.

HOW TO PREVENT YOUR OWN MURDER

By Abe Ribicoff
Governor Of Connecticut

Some months ago I made one of the most important discoveries of my life. It was December, 1955, and I was puzzled. It had been a bloody year on our Connecticut highways.

Now it was holiday time—the season when men wish each other good health and long life—and December was the worst month of all. In that month 44 people in Connecticut started out for a Christmas party or a family reunion and ended up in the morgue.

I was puzzled because people accepted these deaths as normal — even natural. If a little girl is clubbed to death on her way home from school, it's front-page news in every city in the country. But, if that same little girl had been killed by a speeding car, the story wouldn't have been given two inches on Page 16 anywhere but in her own town.

It Is Murder
The difference I think is just that killing by automobile has become so common it has lost its power to appall us. But when God told us not to kill, he meant for us not to do our killing with a club or an automobile. I think the one is murder just as surely as the other.

I called it murder, but I didn't know what one puzzled individual could do about it. This killing was a violation of God's law as well as man's. I decided that I need not be afraid to act, simply because I could never save all the lives that were being taken. What, if through my efforts, I was able to save just one life?

I decided to try. Next morning
I called to my office the state commissioner of police and the state commissioner of motor vehicles. "What," I asked them,
"is the one greatest cause of fatal automobile accidents?"

A Simple Answer
Their answer was simple. It can be told in one word: speed.
If speed was our killer, the next question was, how could we get people to slow down?

And then we had an idea. How about telling the driver that speeding will cost him — not his life — but his driver's license?

It was a new idea, a bold idea,
and, as far as my political career was concerned, a risky one.
I talked it over with my wife before I made my decision. "I'd like to save one life," I told her.
"If I never hold another political office again as long as I live, but save that life, I think it will be worth it." She did too. I decided to try my idea for exactly one year.

No Fixes
Two days before Christmas, 1955, I announced to the people of Connecticut that anyone who was convicted of speeding would have his license suspended for 30 days.

There were two keys to the program. First, punishment would start with the very first offense:
30 days for the first conviction, 60 for the second, indefinitely for the third. The second key was just as important: enforcement was going to be strictly "no-fix."

We summed it up in seven words which we posted on enormous eight-foot signs on every major highway leading into Connecticut:

DON'T SPEED CONVICTION MEANS LOSS OF LICENSE

Overnight, the cry of outrage went up. My advisors were horrified. They told me I'd committed political suicide.

Made Enemies
Maybe I had. During the first month of the drive, I refused to "take care of" a suspension for one of the bigwigs in my own party, a man I've worked with for years. He paused as he was leaving my office, looked back at me, and said, "I'll never vote for you again as long as I live!"

One of my oldest personal friends lost his license too. His wife had to drive him to work for a month. He doesn't speak to me now when we meet on the street.

And as the test year entered its second month, along with the gripes and protests and angry letters, we began to get letters from people who felt differently about the new ruling.

I shall never forget the one from a widow whose husband was killed in an automobile accident the day before the program started.

Had An Answer
"Don't relax the campaign," she wrote, "even though it came one day too late for us. I have an answer for those who speak of the 'unbearable hardship' that a suspension imposes. . . . The violent way my husband died and the pain he suffered was 'unbearable.'
I also find it 'hard' to make a living without my husband. My two boys and I didn't get a 30-day suspension. Ours is a life-time sentence."

But the support that's been especially heartening happened toward the end of the year. In October, a group of 22 ministers, priests, and rabbis in the town of Greenwich launched a month-long churches' Crusade for Safety, based on the clear directives of the Commandment: "Thou Shalt Not Kill."

At the end of the year we had suspended 10,346 licenses for speeding. Had we saved that one life?
1956 was the worst year ever on American highways. The death rate for the nation rose 5 per cent over 1955.

What happened in Connecticut?
In our state there were 50,000 more vehicles registered in 1956 than in 1955. There were 95,000 more operator's licenses issued and 390 million more miles driven on our roads.

But in spite of these facts, the death rate in Connecticut did not rise, as the national rate did. Instead our rate dropped 11.7 per cent!

In terms of human life, this means not just one, but 38 people are alive today who were "supposed" to appear in the death columns of Connecticut's annual traffic report.

But there are even more startling statistics than these. Safety experts who have studied the Connecticut program assure me that if every state in the nation were to adopt a similar program right now, we would save, during the coming year alone, a minimum of 10,000 lives!

God's laws for the world don't change. The Commandment speaks to us today as surely as it ever did. And today it speaks especially to those of us who have in our garages the deadliest weapon ever invented. Let's make it The Commandment of the Highway.

Tomorrow — Sgt. Louis Casullo of the Los Angeles county sheriff's department tells the unusual story of "The Boltin' Bishops," a hot rod club organized by Youth for Christ.

FIND SERGEANT IN TOKYO BAY

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese newspapers today began weaving a cloak and dagger mystery around the body of a U.S. master sergeant found floating in Tokyo Bay.
The police identified the dead man as Emmet E. Dugan but the Army withheld confirmation until relatives were notified. A spokesman said the man had been missing from his Army intelligence unit since Feb. 4.

Press reports said Dugan spoke fluent Chinese and had been assigned to collect information on Red China. He was frequently seen with Chinese friends, the newspapers said.

The Army said it "has no definite knowledge that he was engaged in any investigative activity at the time of death. He could have been a victim of robbery, among other things."

The body found Wednesday was dressed in civilian clothes. The jacket had a California label.

"The preliminary autopsy indicates he was dead before he hit the water," the Army said, adding there was a bruise on the forehead. The body, which apparently had been in the water about two weeks, was identified from fingerprints.

The sergeant had been listed as absent without leave from his unit at Camp Zama, near Yokohama, and later was listed as missing.
His wife left for the United States
Wednesday and is believed now in transit.

Unemployment Claims Slashed Five Per Cent

HARRISBURG (AP) — A five per cent decrease in unemployment compensation claims was noted during the first week on March compared to the last week of February, the Bureau of Employment Security reported yesterday.

The bureau said 330,478 continued claims were filed during the week ended March 7. That was 17,634 below the week ended Feb.
28, but the bureau said the latter week's claims had been swelled by an estimated 20,000 because of layoffs due to the mid-February storm.

The March 7 figure was nearly 31,000 over the first week of February, and roughly double that of a year ago, the bureau said.

nia primary appeared in the making today.

On the Democratic side, a close associate of Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman started circulating nominating petitions of candidates for U. S.
senator, lieutenant-governor and secretary of internal affairs to run with Furman, who seeks the Democratic nomination for governor.

The petitions listed James P.
McGranery, Philadelphia attorney, for U. S. senator; Wilbur E. Culbertson, Clarion County gas and oil operator, for lieutenant-governor, and Michael A. Cannavino of Erie, for secretary of internal affairs.

Stassen Seeks Slate
The Furman slate would oppose the Democratic organization ticket headed by Mayor David L. Lawrence, Pittsburgh, for governor, and Gov. Leader for U. S. senator.
At the same time, Harold E.
Stassen, seeking the Republican nomination for governor, indicated he would put a complete ticket in the field to oppose the GOP organization slate of candidates, headed by Arthur T. McGonigle, Reading, for governor, and U. S.
Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Philadelphia,
for U. S. senator.

Stassen said he expected to file nominating petitions for his ticket at the State Elections Bureau late this afternoon.

Pechan Is Chosen
Stassen confirmed that Sen. Albert R. Pechan (R-Armstrong) assistant GOP Senate floor leader, will be a candidate on his ticket for the Republican nomination for secretary of internal affairs.

Stassen, however, declined to comment on reports that Franck
C. Hilton, Reading, former national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, would join his ticket as a candidate for lieutenant-governor.

Meanwhile, Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, told a television audience in Harrisburg last night that he still is trying to get Furman to withdraw from the race in opposition to party endorsed candidates.

However, Barr said that if Furman were nominated in the May 20 primary, he (Barr) would support him in the November general election.

Furman Non-committal Furman declined to confirm or deny that McGranery, Culbertson and Cannavino would team with him on the Democratic anti-organization slate. Furman said he would file his nominating petitions on Monday, the last day for filing.

McGranery would be a key man in any such slate. A former U. S. district judge in Philadelphia, he resigned to become U. S. attorney general in the closing months of President Harry S. Truman's administration. McGranery is a prominent Roman Catholic layman.

Cannavino is widely known in owner of the Erie Sailors baseball team in the New York-Pennsylvania League.

Greene County Democratic Chairman Harold Dulaney obtained the petitions shortly after returning to Waynesburg from a Harrisburg conference yesterday with Furman. Dulaney has been an active supporter of Furman, who is a native of Greene County.

Warfel Led Bullet Cage Squad In Scoring And Rebounding; Walsack 2nd

De Warfel, Lancaster, led the Gettysburg College basketball team in scoring and rebounding during the 1957-58 season as the Bullets won nine and lost 15 games.

The 6'6" junior tallied 359 points for a 15-point average and pulled down 306 rebounds to lead in that department, an average of 12.8 per contest.

Two other starters, both seniors, also averaged better than 10 points per game. Bob Walsack from Newark, N. J., had a 14.3 average with a total of 344 counters while Frank Capitani, Hershey, chalked up 241 points in 22 games for an 11-point average.

Another double figure scorer was 6'3" junior Walt McGowan of East Lansdowne, Pa., with a 10.7 mean compiled in 11 games prior to dropping from school at mid-year.

Second In Rebounding
Frank Grzelecki, a 6'5" junior from Schenectady, N. Y., was runner-up to Warfel in rebounds, grabbing a total of 280. The pair teamed to do better than 50 percent of the rebounding for the team.

The Bullets averaged 64.8 points per game against a 60.9 norm by the opponents. Gettysburg posted an advantage in both foul shooting and rebounding but were outshot from the field as opposing teams hit on nearly 40 per cent of their efforts.

In addition to Walsack and Capitani, two other seniors, Stan Traymore of Ayr, N. J., and Marty Miller from Chester, Pa., completed their college careers. All other squad members will be back for the 1958-59 campaign.

HAWKINS LEADS AT PENSACOLA

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Fred Hawkins, playing the best golf of his 10-year pro career, was the pace-setter in today's second round of the $15,000 Pensacola Open Tournament.

The veteran from El Paso, Tex., moved out front yesterday with a six-under-par 66, despite blowing himself to a fat seven on one hole.

Hawkins had collected seven birdies of the first 13 holes. PGA officials said the nine birdies Hawkins had for the round were the most scored on a single round since the start of the winter tourneys.

Otto Griener, a club pro from Tanafly, N. J., was one stroke back at 67.

Another stroke back were Bo Wininger of Odessa, Tex., Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, and Don Whit of Alameda, Calif.

10 OF NATION'S TOP TEAMS SEE ACTION TONIGHT

By ORLO ROBERTSON
The Associated Press

Ten of the nation's top teams, four of them former champions, join six unranked quintets tonight in college basketball's title-seeking parade.

The NCAA has the big-school field all to itself today in four regional tournaments. The NIT in New York takes a day off after opening round victories by St. John's of New York and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia.

Among the small colleges, two upstarts, South Dakota and St. Michaels of Vermont, meet in Evansville, Ind., for the NCAA small college crown after upset victories in the semifinals.

NCAA Doubleheaders
In Kansas City, the semifinals of the NAIA match defending champion Tennessee State and Texas Southern in one game and unbeaten Western Illinois and Georgetown of Kentucky in the other. The winners meet Saturday night for the championship.

Tonight's NCAA double-headers at Charlotte, N.C., Lexington, Ky., Lawrence, Kan., and San Francisco will reduce that field to eight. After the regional finals Saturday, only four will remain to battle it out at Louisville March 21-22.

Indiana, Oklahoma State, Kentucky and San Francisco are the former champions among the NCAA contenders but they are not involved in the two big games on tonight's card.

Robertson vs. Booser
One is the clash at Lawrence between high-scoring and second-ranked Cincinnati, starring Al America Oscar Robertson, the nation's No. 1 individual point guard, and third-ranked Kansas State, led by talented Bob Booser.

The other is at Charlotte, where All America Guy Rodgers leads the fifth-ranked Temple Owls in quest of their 24th straight victory (they have lost two) against sixth-ranked Maryland, surprise winner of the Atlantic Coast Conference's playoff tournament.

Tonight's Lineup
Here's tonight's lineup with ranking, if any, and records:
Lawrence — Cincinnati, No. 2 (24-2); vs. Kansas State, No. 3 (20-3); Oklahoma State, No. 19 (20-7); vs. Arkansas (18-8).

Charlotte — Maryland, No. 6 (21-6); vs. Temple, No. 5 (24-2); Manhattan (16-8) vs. Dartmouth (21-4).

Lexington — Kentucky, No. 9 (19-9); vs. Miami (Ohio) (18-7); Notre Dame, No. 8 (23-4); vs. Indiana, No. 12 (12-10).

San Francisco — San Francisco, No. 4 (25-1); vs. Seattle, No. 16 (20-5); Idaho State (22-4) vs. California (18-8).

St. John's got off on the right foot in the NIT after a slow start by downing Butler 83-72. St. Joseph's moved up with an 83-72 conquest of St. Peter's of Jersey City.

The Big Surprises
The semifinals of the NCAA small college tourney produced the big surprises. South Dakota tripped defending champion Wheaton, winner of 27 of its previous 28 games, 65-40. St. Michael's turned back highly regarded Evansville 78-70.

The NAIA ran mostly true to form as Western Illinois chalked up its 26th successive victory with a 70-67 decision over Youngstown and Tennessee State whipped East Texas 81-62. Texas Southern gained the round of four by turning back Coe 96-78 and Georgetown upset West Virginia Wesleyan 83-74.

hood and safety of all our citizens, particularly those directly and vitally affected — our business people and our guides who are located at and near Lincoln Square and those visitors and bus operators from out-of-town whose coming to Gettysburg benefits the economy of our entire community."

The Temporary Plan
The burgess' memorandum setting up the temporary procedure lists the following method of handling chartered buses coming to Gettysburg from March 16 to 30: "Upon request from Battlefield Guides Association, a place of business, or other source, the chief of police will direct an officer to place hoards on meters required, record in police department files at the engine house the time and location that each hoard is in service, supervise traffic in the general area during the period and exercise utmost courtesy in the performance of this duty."

The memorandum notes that "all comments heard, constructive or otherwise, will be carefully noted. The notes made from these comments will be used to help solve our bus problems in Gettysburg."

When unchartered or unscheduled buses arrive, police are to "try to discover as promptly as possible the individual business firm or organization with whom this group desires contact here; direct the bus driver to Travel Council office in Western Maryland railway station for Gettysburg information; if he desires such data; utilize the nearest parking lot and in general follow the appropriate procedure listed above."

QUICK STOCK TRADING
NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices were trimmed slightly in quiet trading today.

Most leading issues took fractional losses. A few small gainers spotted the list.

Turnover slackened after some vigorous sessions and sizable gains earlier this week. Pre-week-end caution was in evidence along with mild profit taking.

The main economic indicators were still pointing downward and Wall Street seemed to have gotten over its exuberance about prospects of a tax cut.

BULLETS PICK ALL-FOE TEAM

All-American Guy Rodgers of Temple and ECAC All-Star selection Hal Danzig of Bucknell were unanimous selections on the Gettysburg College basketball team's all-opponent team for the 1957-58 season.

Others chosen on the first team were Ron Rainey of Penn State, Clint Jeffries of Muhlenberg and Albright's Fred Dietzel.

Second team selections include: Jay Norman and Bill Kennedy, Temple; Bob Mantz, Lafayette; Bill Roeppeck, Lehigh; and Jack Flanagan, Bucknell.

Rodgers was outstanding in leading Temple to an 89-68 win over the Bullets, scoring 25 points and handing out 12 assists. Danzig tallied a total of 52 points and did an excellent rebounding job in leading Bucknell to a pair of wins.

Rainey missed on just one first team ballot and scored 33 points, top scoring effort by an opposing player, in pacing Penn State to an 87-61 verdict. Jeffries scored 42 points and played a fine floor game in a pair of Muhlenberg triumphs.

Dietzel contributed 32 points as Albright scored a come-from-behind 75-67 decision.

A total of 21 players were mentioned on ballots by squad members with three points being given a first team selection and one point for a second team berth.

REDS, FASCISTS OF ITALY STAGE CHAMBER RIOT

ROME (AP)—Fascist and Communist members turned Italy's Chamber of Deputies into a battleground today with a riotous free-for-all fight that left seven persons injured.

Communist-allied Socialists and some Center deputies also joined in the battle, which erupted as the Chamber considered a bill to give legal recognition to the Italian partisans who fought against fascism during World War II.

Such recognition would allow the partisans to claim pensions and other veterans' benefits paid the army.

Worst Fight In Years
Bloody noses, black eyes and swollen fists were evidence of the violence of the fight, one of the worst in years in the turbulent Italian Parliament.

It was the third violent outbreak in less than a month and the second set off by the question of wartime partisans. Fascist deputies are fighting for recognition of the partisans, many of whom were Communists.

When order was restored after 15 minutes the Chamber president, Giovanni Leone, said Fascist Deputy Domenico Leccisi had led the "it's profane" shout that started the free-for-all. Leone proposed that Leccisi be suspended for two days and the Chamber agreed.

Leccisi Walks Out
With that, Leccisi and all the Fascist deputies—who hold 29 seats in the 560-member chamber—walked out.

Leccisi is generally believed to have been the man who stole Benito Mussolini's body from its unmarked pauper's grave more than 10 years ago. The government later recovered the body and kept it hidden until last year.

With the Fascists absent and tempers cooled down, the Chamber finally approved the proposal recognizing the partisans.

The secret ballot gave 346 votes for the proposal, to 46 against.

FOUNDATIONS

You have to go down if you want to go up! That sounds like foolishness, but it isn't.

If you plan to build a garage, you don't need to dig very much before you lay the foundation. But if you plan to rival a modern skyscraper, you must start deep below the earth's surface.

Foundations of great buildings must go down until they rest on bed rock. Not until then is it safe to start going up.

So the next time you look up at a building which rises far above you, don't forget the foundation that makes it possible.

Our lives need such foundations, too. In the building of our lives, and those of our children, we are too often governed by what other people think or by our temporary wants and desires.

But when life's storms come and its testing moments are upon us, it is the foundation that keeps us secure, or the lack of it that permits collapse. Only a life foundation that rests solidly upon faith in the eternal God is really adequate for the kind of character building we must do if we want our lives to be happy and successful.

You've got to go as deep as that, if you want to go up.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday School Lesson

By H. R. and M. C. Gold

THE CHURCH AND COMMUNITY EVANGELISM
Mark 5:18-20; Luke 10:1-2
Key Verse: The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few; pray therefore the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers into his harvest. Luke 10:2.

A quick or careless glance at this lesson topic might assure the indifferent church member that he has no particular responsibility in the matter of evangelism. He convinces himself that it is the Church's business, not his. But he is quite mistaken. The motive for evangelism comes first from individuals even though effective organization for a community-wide evangelism mission must be set up by the Church or congregations within it.

Evangelism is the very root of Christ's gospel teaching and His ministry is a living example of how it should be conducted. He chose the Twelve and selected the seventy but He also sent men home to witness if that is where it would count the most. His own personal witness to men and women such as Zacchaeus, the woman of Samaria, and many others should be a glowing example to every church member.

Find Countless Excuses

Jesus did not depend on apostles and teachers only in spreading the Gospel, but made it quite clear that each follower was to witness wherever he may be - in the home circle, among friends and neighbors, in office or factory. Sometimes these prove to be the hardest places to witness. Those who are inclined to be weak in the faith find countless excuses for not witnessing; they feel unqualified, untrained, and powerless to approach people. This attitude of defeat accomplishes nothing. Christ expects us to bear witness to Him even in our faltering words. This we can all do in His name and through the power of the Holy Spirit.

There is a great urgency about evangelism and has been since Jesus lived among men. But Jesus was wise and understood men. He sent out His messengers two by two as He did with the seventy. Paul and Barnabas traveled together and later, Paul and Luke, so this came to be the accepted pattern of evangelism in the early church. Possibly Jesus remembered the proverb: "And though a man might prevail against one who is alone, two will withstand him. A threefold cord is not quickly broken."

The fields today are still "white unto harvest" and evangelistic teams, literacy teams, and other church-sponsored groups are following the very same pattern in missionary work all over the world. The need for more workers in both home and overseas evangelistic work is apparent. Churches are making great efforts to recruit missionaries and native workers to spread the Gospel of love and redemption. Doors may be closing to missionaries in some lands, but they have already sown the Seed of God's Word and some has taken root in the good soil.

Did Not Cease Teaching

The practice of the early Christians in not ceasing to pray, teach and preach Christ daily should be a guiding light. "And every day in the temple and at home they did not cease teaching and preaching Jesus as the Christ." Some of their intensity and zeal for witnessing has been dissipated during the centuries. Are we actually aware of the percentage of increase in our own congregation? Have we figured the accessions against natural loss of membership through deaths and transfers?

And there is the silent witness in which one lives his faith joyfully. Paul wrote to the Thessalonian congregation saying, "But your faith in God has gone forth everywhere so that we need not say anything." People turned to God from idols, to serve a living and true God. "There are other silent witnesses too - bravely enduring suffering, sorrow, or persecution without re-creation."

Both kinds of witnessing are needed - the spoken word and the silent witness. What makes evangelism so urgent is the realization that unless men learn to know and love Christ, they must perish. This is the reason Jesus gave us the imperative, "Go ye into all the world."

One of the weaknesses in evangelism programs of years past was that Christians did not reach out to win people of all kinds and conditions. The process was selective due to lack of men and means and not intentional. One evangelism leader says, "Every soil needs the Savior. We witness to the Jew, to the American Indian, to the Negro, to the immigrant, to those in the neighborhood around the church, to the high and the low, to the somebodies and the nobodies. We witness to all."

LEGION WOMEN
PLAN FOR POPPY
SALES MAY 24

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, discussed the observance of Poppy Day, with the sale of poppies, at the March meeting of the unit held on Wednesday evening following the community Lenten services at the home of Mrs. F. J. Will, W. Myrtle St.

The Legion Auxiliary is in charge of the poppy sales this year, alternating with the VFW Auxiliary. May 24 has been designated as Poppy Day. Mrs. Donald L. Bedford is the sales chairman and announced that the poppy order to the department will be placed soon and the unit will cooperate with the poppy poster contest being held by the National Legion Auxiliary, and the contest rules have been forwarded to the Littlestown Jointure School office. Students are invited to participate in the contest and may secure the rules from the art department at the school. Prize winning posters will be displayed locally and will be entered in the national competition in June.

Winners were announced in the auxiliary sponsored Americanism essay contest, held for local high school students on the subject "Freedoms Blessings," as follows: First, Gloria Burgoon, $5 prize; John Groft, second, $3; Carol Sponseller, third, $2.

Invited To Birthday Party

The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Ivan D. Rickrode. Mrs. W. E. Mackley, secretary, and Mrs. Will, treasurer, reported. It was announced that $72.75 was realized from the imaginary food sale held last month. Mrs. James W. Fager reported that 1962 coupons were sent in to the department last month. As community service chairman, Mrs. Fager announced that one wheelchair and one hospital bed are available for community use. Mrs. Fager also gave a resume of the proceedings at the quarterly meeting of the Four-County Council of Auxiliaries held last Thursday in York, to which she was delegate. The next meeting of the council will be on Thursday, June 5, in McConrillsburg.

An invitation was extended to the members of the Auxiliary and Legion Post to attend the Harold H. Bair Legion Post birthday party at the home on Carlisle St., Hanover, on April 10. Contributions voted were $1 to Adams County Easter seals; American Legion Auxiliary Department of Pennsylvania for a banquet honoring the national and state president, $2.50; essay prize money; transportation and delegates dinner to Four-County Council; council donation, $10; Easter gift for the unit's adopted boy, Jimmy Rummel, at Scotland School.

Plan Egg Hunt

The members made plans to prepare the eggs for the Easter egg hunt held each year by the Legion post. The guest package given by Miss Beulah Vintrod, was won by Mrs. Ralph Conover. It was announced that a home products demonstration will be held in connection with the May meeting.

The next regular meeting of the unit will be held on Wednesday, April 9, 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ralph Conover, Ocker Ave. Pan American Month will be observed in April, and Mrs. Conover is Pan Americanism chairman.

President Syngman Rhee of Korea sent the following message on his New Year's cards: "There is no enemy to fear, if the power of pen and sword is used for justice."

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

JERUSALEM—It was twilight. I walked in the Garden of Gethsemane. A green-headed lizard stood motionless on the grey trunk of an olive tree which may have been a shoot of one that shaded Christ in His agony. The air was moist and dungscent. A cricket chirped. Two Arab women came and drew water from the well. The sky turned from red, purple, blue to grey. There was the soft clatter of donkey hoofs and, in the distance, the yelp of a dog. Then it was dark and a single star appeared. There were deep, diffused shadows in the Garden. The top of the foliage was touched with silver.

Save for the modern sounds of the highway, this might have been like the night when Christ prayed, Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from Me; nevertheless not My will but Thine be done." (Matt. 26:39)

The handsome shah married Soraya, whose name means "Star," Feb. 12, 1951. Since 1953 she has traveled to Switzerland several times, and the couple consulted New York doctors on a 1955 visit to the United States in hopes of ending their childlessness.

Early this year the Queen left for West Germany. A court envoy visited her, reportedly with the proposal for the Shah to take an additional wife. The communique made no mention of this, saying that Soraya had expressed herself ready "for any sacrifice in securing the future of the monarchy of Iran."

Ends Happy Romance

Another suggestion was for the Shah to name his brother Abdul Reza or his 9-year-old nephew Ali Patrik as crown prince. But the court advisers felt the throne, which the Shah's semiliterate, ex-Cossack father gained by force, would be safer if passed from father to son.

The divorce ended what had appeared to be one of the world's happier royal marriages. The queen had been widely credited with helping the Shah develop from a rather ineffectual young man with a fondness for sports cars and flying into a strong ruler who steered his country down a pro-Western path.

Cadillac

It's an Easy Step from Dreaming to Driving!

Here he is at last—just a few miles out on his maiden journey—with his hands on the wheel and his head in the clouds. It's his!

And yet, truth to tell, he does have one regret. For he knows that he needn't have waited this long, had he but realized what an easy step it is from dreaming of a Cadillac to driving in a Cadillac.

Like a great many motorists, for instance, he was not aware that a Cadillac—in view of its obvious virtues—could be so modest in price.

Nor did he appreciate, until the facts were presented, how economical a Cadillac is to maintain or how wonderfully it holds its value over the years.

And little did he suspect how accommodating his dealer would be in welcoming him to membership in the great and distinguished family of Cadillac owners.

So, if you have your heart set on a Cadillac, you should hesitate no longer to investigate this happy set of circumstances.

In fact, why not visit your dealer today? He will be happy to help you select your favorite Cadillac model with your favorite Fleetwood interior—be it the luxurious Sixty-Two Coupe or the magnificent Eldorado Brougham.

Princess Grace Gives Birth To Son And Heir In Monaco

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Princess Grace of Monaco today gave birth to her first son—the new heir to the throne of Monaco.

The boy was named Albert.

The royal palace said the baby weighed 8½ pounds.

The palace said he would be christened Albert Alexandre Louis Pierre.

The baby displaces his 13-month-old sister Princess Caroline in the line of succession to his father Prince Rainier, Monaco's 31st sovereign.

101 Gun Salute
The boom of the 101-gun salute—it would have been only 21 for a girl—set off wild rejoicing in the 387-acre principality on the French Riviera.

The little prince was born at 10:50 a.m. in the royal apartments where Caroline had arrived Jan. 23, 1957. The Parisian baby specialist here for the birth, Dr. Emile Hervet, had been called to the bedside of the former movie queen at 8.

Prince Rainier and Grace's mother, Mrs. John B. Kelly of Philadelphia, also were on hand. The new baby has light brown hair and was reported in bouncing health. He measured 20 inches long as he lay on the baby scales. The 28-year-old mother, the former Grace Kelly, also was reported in fine shape. She had been in excellent health throughout her pregnancy and took a long walk yesterday with her mother.

Attending the princess with Dr. Hervet were Dr. Maurice Donat of Nice and Dr. Paul Gandelon, another baby specialist. Dr. Gandelon immediately took over the care of the prince and, after he was weighed, placed him in the royal cradle which Rainier and Caroline had used.

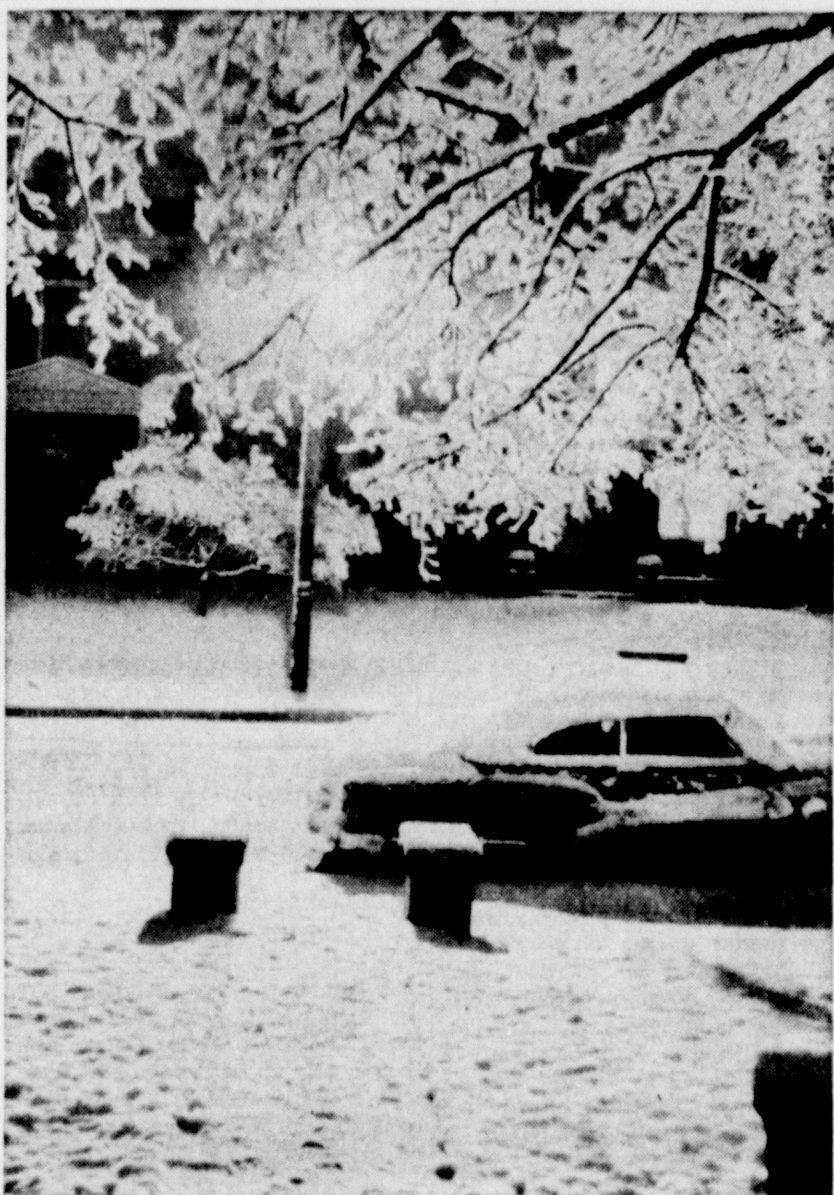

An unidentified woman shouted the first news of the birth—"It's a boy! It's a boy!"—from a palace window to the crowd of reporters and Monacans in the palace square.

Sound, Sirens, Whistles
The news spread through the postage-stamp principality in seconds and wild cheers went up. Yachts and boats in Monte Carlo's harbor let loose with sirens and whistles.

But the birth came too late to give Monaco's 2,700 schoolchildren the day off. They will get their holiday tomorrow. Five of the six prisoners in the royal jail, behind bars for relatively light offenses, are expected to be amnestied.

Rainier's family had gathered at the palace soon after the word went out that the baby was on the way. Flowers began to stream to the royal apartment.

Less than half an hour after the birth the Monaco radio broadcast this official bulletin: "We are particularly happy to announce that a boy was born at the royal

Claim American-Made Arms, Ammunition Sent To Rebels

By JOHN RODERICK

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Premier Djuanda claimed today that American-made arms and ammunition were dropped to the Central Sumatran rebels a few hours before Central Government troops captured the oil center of Pekanbaru.

"The arms could have been purchased from the United States by private persons who have been palace. The prince heir is named Albert Alexandre Louis Pierre. He was born at 10:48 and weighs three kilos 950."

The bulletin, like the one issued for the birth of Princess Caroline, probably was written by Prince Rainier himself.

come stooges of the rebels," he told newsmen.

The left-wing newspaper Bintang Timur said the weapons were dropped from an Australian air force plane. This was denied by Australian Ambassador L. R. McIntyre.

All Americans Safe
A. H. Arnold, attorney for the American-owned Caltex Oil Co., said he hopes the Central Government will allow his company to resume operations in the Pekanbaru area. Arnold said Caltex employees in Pekanbaru reported all Americans safe and the oil installations undamaged.

Caltex has 125 million dollars worth of installations in the fields near Pekanbaru and at Sumatra east coast ports captured by the Jakarta forces. Ships with food and supplies now are en route from Singapore to Caltex workers.

A correspondent of the government's Antara News Agency reported from Pekanbaru that large numbers of rebel troops fled after throwing away their arms, or surrendered.

Flee To Jungles
Three hours after the government paratroop landing, life was back to normal in Pekanbaru, Antara said.

During the past week's clashes at Pekanbaru and three east coast

ISLANDS, the rebels have either skirmished briefly or headed for the jungle before government troops arrived.

Rebel sources in Singapore indicated this was part of a plan to lure government forces away from the shore into the Sumatran wilds, where the rebels can wage a guerrilla war.

In Jakarta, a nine-man parliamentary commission reported it had made no progress at working out an agreement between President Sukarno and former Vice President Mohammed Hatta, whom the rebels want installed as premier to give the outer islands a better economic deal, and purge the government of Communists.

The commission said Sukarno insisted on carrying on his own negotiations with Hatta, which also have not produced an agreement.

SEN. DOUGLAS BATTLING FOR EXCISE TAX CUT

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) battled today for an excise tax cut despite overwhelming Senate rejection of his proposal for a slash in both personal income and excise levies.

By a 71-14 vote, the Senate last night defeated Douglas' proposal for tax cuts totaling about $5,200,000,000. He contended the cuts were needed to fight the recession and provide more spending money.

Several opponents attacked the Douglas proposal as inflationary. They also objected to the short-cut method he was using in seeking the reduction. Douglas offered his plan as an amendment to a House-passed bill dealing with taxes on certain income of insurance companies. The Constitution requires that tax legislation originate in the House, where it normally is processed in committee before reaching the floor.

Plans Amendment

However, in advance of today's session, Douglas said he planned to offer an amendment to cut excise taxes alone. He told newsmen he felt there was "still a chance" the Senate would accept such an amendment.

Under the proposal turned down a variety of excise, or sales, taxes would be reduced about $2,200,000,000. This would include cutting in half both the 10 per cent excise on autos and the 3 per cent tax on freight transportation.

Douglas, who contends a tax cut is the quickest way to pump consumer dollars into the sagging economy, said his new amendment would call for the same excise reductions contained in the rejected proposal, except that he might revise it to eliminate the freight transportation tax entirely.

Fate Indicated

The fate of Douglas' new proposal on excise taxes may have been foreshadowed when the Senate last night rejected by voice vote an amendment by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) to halve the 10 per cent manufacturer's tax on autos and trucks.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), a foe of any tax cuts at this time, estimated the Anderson proposal would cost the Treasury 850 million dollars in revenue. But Anderson said the revenue loss would total between 400 and 500 millions.

In the House, meanwhile, Rep. Simpson (R-Pa.), a member of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, introduced a bill to cut taxes on personal and corporate income and to trim sharply excise levies on such items as new cars, TV sets and personal transportation. The Simpson bill would bring tax reductions totaling about $6,400,000,000.

Want Drastic Action

The AFL-CIO withheld releasing its current economic analysis, which was sent to the White House so Eisenhower could study it first. It was reported to contend that current economic data at hand is sufficient to show, without waiting for further data, that the economy is still going downward, warranting more drastic government intervention. It also pointed to still further declines in steel and auto industry production.

Effective today, the Federal Reserve Board extended to five more reserve banks a cut in discount rates from 2 1/4 to 2 1/2 per cent — a move to loosen credit. Now the Minneapolis reserve bank is the only one left at the old rate.

Auditor General To Support McGonigle

HARRISBURG (AP) — Arthur T. McGonigle today had a pledge of support from Aud. Gen. Charles C. Smith in the Republican primary campaign.

Smith was one of several persons considered for the gubernatorial nomination by the party organization before its leaders endorsed McGonigle.

The auditor general, a Philadelphia, said after a short conference with McGonigle yesterday: "I am wholeheartedly supporting Mr. McGonigle. We talked about politics, but it was simply an informal conference."

THREE KILLED IN THREE-CAR CRASH

LYNCHBURG, Va. (AP) — Three Pennsylvanians were killed and three other persons were injured yesterday in a three-car crash on U.S. 29 near here.

All of the dead and two of the injured, riding in the same car, were from Mifflinville, Pa.

Killed were Miss Nola S. Miller, 22, Elsie Lutz, 47, and Grant Grover Miller, 62. Injured were Wilbur E. Lutz, 53, driver of the car, Mrs. Mae Miller and Edwin F. Booke, 44, of Baltimore, Md. They were in serious condition at Charlottesville Hospital.

State police said the cars driven by Lutz and Booke crashed head-on and the third car, driven by Gary L. Potts of Sandston, piled into the wreckage. Potts escaped injury.

Accuse Negroes Of Insulting Girl Pupil

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Police picked up four Negro teenagers yesterday after getting a report that rocks were thrown and curses shouted at Sammie Dean Parker, 16-year-old white girl expelled from integrated Central High School and later reinstated.

Officers said Mrs. J. D. Parker, the girl's mother, reported that several Negroes yelled insults and hurled rocks at Sammie Dean as she approached her home after school.

Three girls and a boy were picked up in the vicinity of the Parker home and later were turned over to their parents, police said. No charges were filed. Sammie Dean was not injured.

WILL SENTENCE 12 FOR FRAUD

HARRISBURG (AP) — Eight men convicted of defrauding the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission of $500,000 through sale of roadbed filler were called for sentence today in Dauphin County Court.

Four others who pleaded guilty to the same charges also were ordered to appear for sentencing before Judge Homer L. Kreider. All except one of the eight men convicted were refused new trials when their motions were turned down.

Walter G. Ketas, Clarks Summit, withdrew his appeal for a new trial or arrested judgement. Convicted last November of conspiring to defraud the commission in the filler sales for use in stabilizing a section of the Northeastern Extension in Lackawanna and Luzerne counties were:

Donald H. Burkert, Ashland R. 1; Roger A. Hines, West Pittston; Evans Moses, Wilkes-Barre; William Lipfert, Trucksville; Francis Chiazza, Carteret, N.J.; Robert Havard, West Pittston, and Joseph A. Rogers, Scranton.

Those who pleaded guilty were: Mario Fronduti, Dalton; John H. Munley, Archbald; John F. Williams, Clarks Summit, and George W. Oswald, Dunmore.

13 POST OFFICE BUILDINGS WILL BE CONSTRUCTED

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Summerfield announced today his department expects to open bids this spring on 13 previously authorized new post office buildings in as many cities. The estimated construction cost is around $9,100,000.

Summerfield's announcement avoided description of the plan as an anti-recession move. However, it coincides with administration and congressional efforts to reduce unemployment.

The proposed construction work is not a part of the two billion dollar new Post Office building program recently suggested to Congress by President Eisenhower. The 14 projects announced for spring bidding were taken from the old Post Office lease-purchase program, which the department once suspended to avoid additional inflationary pressures on construction prices.

2 In Pennsylvania
All of the proposed new buildings will be main post offices, except for a Denver, Colo., project. That calls for a 461,000-square-foot facility designed to handle parcel post and other bulk mail. The new main post office buildings are proposed for Oxford, Pa.; Scranton, Pa.; Madison, Tenn.; Refugio, Tex.; Camden, N.Y.; Brooklyn, N.Y.; Grundy, Va.; New Richmond, Wis.; Two Harbors, Minn.; Cashmere, Wash.; Skaneateles, N.Y.; and Newark, N.J.

Under the lease-purchase plan, the government supplies the land and the building is financed by private capital. The Post Office Department eventually obtains ownership of the whole property through installment payments, paid like rent.

PRESIDENT AND MACMILLAN TO CONFER IN JUNE

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan will meet here in June to coordinate U.S.-British planning for a summit conference with the Soviet Union.

The White House announced the meeting will be held June 9-10. By that time the issue of whether to hold a summit conference will very likely be settled, officials believe, and most of them say privately they are sure there will be a conference.

Other subjects expected to come up in the Eisenhower-Macmillan sessions include cooperation between the United States and Britain in atomic energy development, U.S. supplies of nuclear missiles for British bases, Middle Eastern problems, East-West trade and a review of conditions in the Far East.

Met Twice In '57
Eisenhower and Macmillan met twice last year — in Bermuda last March and in Washington last October. Both also attended a meeting of the heads of government of the NATO countries in Paris in December.

Secretary of State Dulles, who has been attending a meeting of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, told a news conference in Manila that a way must be found to end the U.S.-Soviet "impasse" over a heads of government conference. He said the deadlock arises because the Soviet Union is interested in a meeting whether or not it produces agreements while the United States is primarily interested in getting agreements.

The Prevailing View
The prevailing view in diplomatic quarters here is that disarmament may provide the way out of the impasse.

The idea would be to negotiate through diplomatic channels and possibly an East-West foreign ministers conference a tentative plan for Soviet-Western agreement on some phase of disarmament, probably the phase dealing with suspension of nuclear tests. The summit conference would act on this.

Pilot Takes Photo And Crashes Plane

LANGHORNE, Pa. (AP) — A single engine plane crashed yesterday near a railroad embankment. The pilot escaped injury, but the plane was wrecked.

Charles M. Cameron, 27, of Mount Holly, N.J., told police he was taking photographs from the two-seater Piper when the camera fell jamming the controls.

The plane hit a 4,400 volt power line before crashing two miles from the Langhorne-Pennel railroad station.

Foiled Burglar Going To Try Again

DALLAS (AP) — A burglar broke into a five and dime store and used a hammer, three chisels, a screw driver and a monkey wrench on the safe. He knocked off the knob and forced open the door only to find a second door behind him and the loot.

He left this note in an office typewriter: "Too bad. I will get in next time when I'm more prepared. Thank you and goodbye till then."

Fewer Married Folk Land In Albany Jail

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — More bachelors and spinsters spent time in the Albany County jail last year than did married folk. The 1957 report of the sheriff showed 1,970 men had been received either to await disposition of charges or to serve a term, and 1,286 of them were single. Of the 206 women taken in, 131 were single.

BAROLDA, Mich. (AP) — Lee Briggs, 22, was getting in a little target practice by shooting his rifle out of his apartment window at a telephone pole. One of the shots severed a cable and left this community of some 400 persons without telephone service. Briggs was fined $50 and costs.

The New Britain, Conn., native was led manacled and under heavy guard to Dade County's skyscraper jail, from which he and three other prisoners escaped in a daring human-fly descent of a rope made of mattress ticking. The other three were recaptured earlier.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — It wasn't always like this. No one's shocked when Democrats and Republicans talk of a possible tax cut and red-link spending to fight the recession. It took a depression to change American thinking.

Back in 1929 when the depression was starting — although few recognized it — Democrats and Republicans were thinking in terms of a balanced budget. Meaning: that government spending should not exceed government revenue from taxes.

On Nov. 13, 1929, Secretary of Treasury Andrew Mellon — spokesman for the Hoover administration — asked and got from Congress a tax cut for individuals and corporations. This wasn't an antidepression step. Far from it.

President Hoover and Mellon had wanted such a cut for months. So on Nov. 13 — just a few weeks after the fatal stock market crash in October — their views hadn't changed. This was their reason for wanting the cut:

Mellon Was Confident
They thought the government would be getting more revenue from taxes than it needed. Mellon even issued a statement expressing confidence "prosperity" would continue. It did just the opposite. By 1932 around 10 million were unemployed.

Then Hoover and Mellon asked Congress for, and got, a tax increase. Their reason this time: that with the depression spreading and revenue from taxes falling off, the budget would be unbalanced.

Congress — with Democrats controlling the House and Republicans the Senate — granted the request. It seems strange now that they would siphon off more spending money from people at a time when more spending was needed.

But neither party wanted an unbalanced budget, even to fight the

SLAYER TELLS OF SECRET PACT, ILLEGAL LOVE

BEAVER, Pa. (AP) — A balding 25-year-old married millworker says he pumped six bullets into his beauty queen girlfriend because they had a secret pact that "one of us was going to die" if their romance broke up.

Theodore Pallow, of nearby Midland, made that statement yesterday after he walked into the police station in this Beaver County community and said: "I just killed a girl in Vanport."

Police went to the scene and found the body of 21-year-old Miss Rosalie Leis at the foot of a tree not far from her home.

The comely blonde won several local beauty contests and in 1955 was runner-up to Miss Pennsylvania in the Miss Universe competition. More recently she had worked as a clerk in a nearby plant.

Pallow, estranged from his wife and seven-month-old child, faces a preliminary hearing this afternoon on a murder charge.

Pallow said his illicit romance "broke up my home" but said "I loved Rosalie very much."

Pallow indicated his relationship with Miss Leis was breaking up. He said he went to Miss Leis' home early yesterday morning. The couple walked down a lonely lane where Pallow said he shot her once. He said she fell to her knees and begged: "Kill me quick." Then he fired five more bullets from the .22 revolver.

Pallow hitchhiked to Beaver and turned himself in. He indicated he had not planned to take his own life.

Ironically, Mrs. Pallow's attorney, unaware of the shooting, appeared later in the morning at the courthouse to file divorce action.

Miss Leis lived with her father, Andrew. Her parents are separated.

depression. That same year, 1932, the Democratic campaign platform promised a balanced budget and a reduction in government spending.

Suggests Visit To Jail For Juveniles

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — An Oneida County grand jury suggests a novel way to curtail juvenile delinquency: visits to the county jail by high school pupils.

In a report handed up in Supreme Court, the jurors said that, "due to the number of youthful offenders involved in cases brought before this grand jury, we respectfully recommend that arrangements be made for high school juniors and seniors to visit the Oneida County Jail as a possible deterrent to juvenile delinquency."

Trying To Sell Car, It's Smashed By Wall

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Genevieve Stanhope found a buyer for her car and drove to a neighborhood bank for the ownership certificate. She parked in front of a building being demolished. While she was in the bank, a gust of wind blew a wall of the building onto her car. Miss Stanhope emerged to find it no longer salable.

HUSBAND OF LORETTA YOUNG MAKES CHARGES

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Television star Loretta Young's husband accuses her and their business partner of "dishonesty, mismanagement and unfairness."

Advertising executive Tom Lewis, whose 17½-year marriage to the actress has been considered one of Hollywood's happiest, filed a civil suit yesterday to dissolve their company, Lewlor Films, Inc. The company has had a part in producing her filmed show seen Sunday nights on NBC-TV.

He alleged that Miss Young and her partner Robert F. Shewalter "in combination as directors and stockholders and president and secretary-treasurer" have "exercised complete control over the corporation to the complete exclusion" of Lewis.

"No Personal Implications" Unless the corporation is dissolved promptly, Lewis contended in the complaint, he will be deprived of his rights as a shareholder "due to the continued and additional dishonesty, mismanagement and unfairness" of Miss Young and Shewalter.

In New York City, where he is vice president in charge of television for the C. J. LaRoche Advertising Co., Lewis said the suit is "a corporate matter" and has "no personal implication."

In Hollywood, Miss Young was not available for comment. Her press agent said she knew of no trouble in the marriage.

Lewis brought the suit against

Asks Quick Action On Education Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Kearns (R-Pa.) has asked the House Education Committee to act quickly on his federal aid to education bill.

"I would like to see the bill brought to the floor as soon as possible but was told hearings may continue into the summer," Kearns told a newsmen yesterday.

He said he asked for the speed up at a committee meeting but added he could get no assurance of action from Chairman Barden (D-NC).

Kearns introduced the administration-backed bill earlier this year. It provides a multi-facet program, featuring federal grants to encourage early discovery of aptitudes for teaching science and engineering.

The bill would also encourage expansion of foreign language instruction — particularly in little known languages such as Russian.

the corporation, Miss Young and Shewalter who, with him, are its owners. Shewalter described it as a "service company without assets or liabilities."

Lewis' suit alleged that the corporation has declared no dividends although net profits for the fiscal years ending in April 1955, 1956, and 1957 were $19,029.55, $39,177.75 and $37,223.42.

He also alleged that on May 11, 1956, he resigned as an officer and director at the request of Miss Young and Shewalter and that afterward they increased their own salaries to twice what they had been.

STRONG WINDS, SNOW HIT U. S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Late winter storms left a blanket of snow across wide areas in the Eastern half of the country today, with falls ranging up to nearly a foot in some areas.

Thunderstorms and strong winds hammered areas in the Southeast during the night but appeared abating.

The mid-March storms swept from the Plains eastward along the Ohio River and moved into Eastern sections of the nation.

More than 9 inches of snow was reported in Cumberland, Md. Heavy snow also fell in eastern West Virginia, with up to 7 inches in some places.

Report 9 Deaths Falls ranged from 4 to 7 inches in a narrow belt from southwest Ohio through eastern sections of Ohio and across the central and southern parts of Pennsylvania. From 1 to 3 inches fell in parts of Virginia and New York state. The snow headed into New England and was expected to continue in most of the Northeast during the day.

At least nine deaths were blamed on the stormy weather. These included five in highway accidents in Kentucky and one in Maryland. Deaths due to overexertion while shoveling snow included two in Ohio and one in Kentucky.

South of the snow belt, rain fell in the Carolinas and Florida and southern Virginia.

Slayer Of Highway Patrolmen Is Given Two Life Sentences

SANFORD, N.C. (AP)—Frank Edward Wetzel, convicted of killing two state highway patrolmen, escaped the gas chamber but received sentences which make it unlikely he ever will be free again.

The 36-year-old Seneca Falls, N.Y., defendant, straight-faced but pale when he rose to hear the verdict, relaxed when a Superior Court jury recommended yesterday that he be given life imprisonment for slaying patrolmen J. T. Brown.

Judge George M. Fountain immediately passed sentence, and specified that it should begin at the end of a life sentence Wetzel already was serving for the murder of trooper Wister Lee Reece.

Consecutive Terms The circumstances of the sentence made it unlikely Wetzel ever would be paroled, since he will not serve the two life terms concurrently.

Wetzel, who had a long record as a petty criminal in New York state, was convicted last January at nearby Rockingham of murdering Reece. The jury then recommended mercy, and Wetzel was sentenced to life.

Sentence Man Who Robbed Liquor Store

READING, Pa. (AP)—A 24-year-old Sanatoga man was sentenced to five to 10 years in Eastern State Penitentiary yesterday after he pleaded guilty to holding up a state liquor store in Reading last Dec. 6.

Berks County Judge Warren K. Hess sentenced Charles A. Barr and ordered that he start serving the term in 1960 when Barr finishes a two to five-year sentence for an earlier robbery.

Police said Barr took $164 from the liquor store.

proaching motorist saw the flash of the gunfire at the second killing and the car sped away.

Terry identified the killer's car, which was abandoned Nov. 6 in Chattanooga, Tenn.; gave the FBI a description of the man; and later, when Wetzel had been identified as chief suspect and arrested in California, Terry picked him out of a police lineup in North Carolina.

The state built step by step its case of "circumstantial evidence" tending to show that Wetzel stole a black, high-powered automobile in Bradford, Pa.; broke into a jewelry store in West Virginia and a clothing store; and continued into North Carolina, where he picked up a Negro hitchhiker near Asheboro the night of Nov. 5.

The hitchhiker, 30-year-old lay preacher Robert Terry, witnessed the slaying of Reece near Ellerbe, then fled from the car. Brown was shot about an hour later near Sanford, about 50 miles away. An ap-

FIRE BURNS 30 CABIN CRUISERS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A general alarm fire swept a nearby boat yard last night, exploding gasoline tanks, destroying 30 cabin cruisers and injuring some 40 firemen, none seriously.

George Smith, owner of the Esington Yacht yard, estimated damage at $300,000. Firemen had estimated the damage at two million dollars.

Authorities said the blaze might have been started by children playing with matches in the shed. State police were investigating.

The blaze damaged a shed in which 15 of the boats and the gasoline were stored. After the explosion, which hurled a fireman from the shed, the fire spread to 15 other boats.

Six firemen were hospitalized. The others were treated for smoke inhalation.

Wall Collapses And Workman Is Injured

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A section of a wall collapsed yesterday hurling a workman 90 feet to the street below.

Raymond Ross, 22, of National Park, N.J., suffered multiple injuries, but was reported in good condition at St. Agnes Hospital.

Ross and two other men were removing face brick from the wall atop a six story building. Ross had just removed his safety line to retire it.

The other two men narrowly escaped falling. Charles Cornell, 18, of Woodbury, N.J., stepped to safety as the wall began to crumble. Frank Nealey, 24, of Gloucester City, N.J., started to fall, but grabbed a safety line.

A wet snow fell hampering several hundred firemen from 12 Delaware County communities who fought the fire more than three hours before bringing it under control.

In Memoriam

RICKARD: In sad and loving remembrance of our dear husband and father, Walter D. Rickard, who departed this life one year ago today, March 14, 1957. God saw the road was getting rough. The hills were hard to climb. He gently closed his loving eyes. And whispered, "Peace be thine." His weary hours, his days of pain. His weary nights are past. His ever patient worn out frame. Has found sweet rest at last. Dear daddy, you are not forgotten. Though on earth you are no more. Still in memory you are with us. As you always were before. We often sit and think of you. When we are all alone. For memory is the only friend. That grief can call its own. His loving wife and children. MRS. BESSIE RICKARD. MRS. HARRY SEASE. MRS. PAUL FISCEL.

STOCKHOLDERS OF MANY FIRMS WILL MEET SOON

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's stockholders are about to have their big day. Annual meetings already under way will flourish like the green bay tree in the next few weeks.

This time what the owners ask management about the results of the recent past and the prospects of the immediate future may have more bite than in some jollier years.

Opening statements of chairmen of the board seem almost certain to stress the need in these times for confident thinking.

Some Proxy Fights
A few of the meetings are due for proxy fights for control. But the vast majority will start with the management having in its pocket all the votes it needs and to spare.

More stockholders than ever are expected to turn out. Attendance at annual meetings has grown steadily since the war.

The total number of stockholders has grown in the past year. It is now well over eight million. American Telephone & Telegraph has the most, 1,000,000. General Motors is second with 718,000. Jersey Standard Oil third with 465,000. General Electric next with 380,000 and Ford Motors fifth with 280,000.

Some Love Feasts
Some of the meetings should be love feasts. A nice handful of companies can report record earnings in 1957. Many can speak cheerfully about prospects for the months ahead. Stockholders in 229 of the 1,096 companies with common stock listed on the New York Stock Exchange know that the price of their shares increased in 1957. Some are at record highs now.

Other corporate situations may call for more explanation to the owners. Since New Year's Day some 150 corporations have cut or omitted dividend payments. But some other companies have much to brag about.

The Exchange, monthly publication of the N.Y. Stock Exchange says 643 companies listed on the big board have paid quarterly dividends regularly for 10 years or longer, with 45 of these boasting records of 50 or more years of unbroken payments.

Some Larger Holdings
Many of the stockholders attending this year's meetings will be reporting much larger holdings than last year.

Thirty-two companies listed on the big board last year sold 33,363,355 additional common shares to their stockholders through issuing rights for a total purchase of $1,522,752,420. And AT&T is tabulating results of its offering of convertible debentures to its stockholders—the largest offering ever made. In time these could be changed into common stock and further swell the total.

Direct Sales Help
The N.Y. Stock Exchange also brags that its brain child, the monthly investment plan of selling stocks on a pay as you go basis, in its four years of life has accounted for sales of 2,059,165 common shares for $20,600,000.

Direct sales of new issues to the public and new listings have brought the number of common shares listed on the exchange this year to 4,632,928,911, up 483,737,538 in 12 months. The total is swelled by listings on other exchanges: American Stock Exchange in New York, Pacific Coast Exchange in San Francisco and Los Angeles, Midwest Stock Exchange in Chicago, and those in Cincinnati, New Orleans, Salt Lake City and Spokane, Wash.

Find Jar Of $2,700 In Confederate Bills

ALLENSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—David Abney and Billy Carter unearthed a glass jar containing $2,700. But their joy didn't last long. The youngsters' fortune in denominations of $1 to $100 was all Confederate money—in perfect condition. It was not known where the money originally came from.
